

Contents

0.1 Extract spending history from gmail to google sheet	1
---	---

Create a flow diagram with clear arrows and boxes from the following components. Include the step-by-step copy used in the diagram as separate text below the final diagram in clear steps. Set ‘Comfortaa’ as the default font in the workspace for all text copy, flow diagrams, and generated images. For the summary, use a voice and tone of an informative product designer that is highlighting the steps and pathways of the flow diagram in an practical and concise manner. Be succinct, 10-15 words per bullet point. Ignore specific variable related instructions e.g. set variable, extract numbers, etc. Consolidate and repetitive and high level intructions.

Add a Tasks heading with three concise and appealing tasks this workflow can perform (bullet points). Then add a Benefits heading with three concise bullet points of the benefits to someone buying this product but pitched to improve their business and operations e.g. increase revenue, improve customer experience, etc.

Redo the title I supply with a punchier title

0.1 Extract spending history from gmail to google sheet